Dear partners,

Weintek hereby announces the end-of-life for the following model.

E.O.L Model
cMT-G04

Weintek is committed to advancing HMI technology to provide feature-rich, user-friendly, and high-performance products and solutions that simplify control system integration.

After years on the market, the cMT-G04 no longer meets current market requirements in terms of specifications and functionality. In addition, some of its components are being phased out. As a result, Weintek will discontinue this model effective immediately and focus on products that better align with today's market trends.

We sincerely thank you for your understanding and apologize for any inconvenience you may encounter due to the E.O.L of the affected product, and by this early notice we hope to minimize any inconvenience that this might cause. If you have any questions regarding this E.O.L announcement, please feel free to contact our sales team. Thank you very much.
