

End Of Life Announcement

MT8071iER

Apr. 14th, 2023

Dear partners,

Weintek hereby announces the end-of-life for the following model.

| E.O.L Model | Last Order/Shipment Date |
|-------------|----------------------------------|
| MT8071iER | Please contact your distributor. |

Weintek has always been dedicated to the advancement of HMI technologies in order to provide customers with feature-rich, high-performance, and user-friendly HMI products and solutions that streamline the workflows of control system integration.

Having been on the market for years, the specifications and functionalities of MT8071iER have become inadequate to fulfill industry needs. Moreover, certain technologies and components adopted by it have become obsolete. Consequently, Weintek has decided to discontinue its production and concentrate on products that align with current market trends.

We sincerely thank you for your understanding and apologize for any inconvenience you may encounter due to the E.O.L of the affected product, and by this early notice we hope to minimize any inconvenience that this might cause. If you have any question regarding this E.O.L announcement, please feel free to contact our sales representative. Thank you very much.
